The Fifty-Second Christian Workers' Conference Ended

The Fifty-second annual conference of Christian Workers ended its sessions last Sunday evening in the Northfield Seminary Auditorium when Rev. J. Harry Cotton of Columbus, Ohio was the speaker.

Preachers from Great Britain and America have addressed the conference. William R. Moody, son of the evangelist, was chairman.

For two weeks the conference has been meeting daily with an attendance of ministers and laymen present from states as far west as the Mississippi river and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico. About eight services have been held daily.

Soloists at the closing service Sunday were Glanville Davies of Burlington, Vt., baritone, and Emil Calvega, violinist.

"The Cross" was the subject of Mr. Cotton's sermon. "There seems to be no moral reality in much of the preaching of the cross today," he declared. "We are not sure we have learned the need of the cross." The speaker then went on to point out the real sense of love exhibited in parents for children and between husband and wife, closing with the question, "How much more then, is the love of God?"

"Love always finds it hard to forgive sins. What must the love of God be to forgive sins? If peace and mercy be without truth and righteousness, then God would be an abettor of sin."

"Before Jesus Christ came, all relations were on the basis of merit, without grace. In these religions the inner desire to satisfy God is tried by bringing down the level of God, as if punishing the body were enough. Despair again returns to plague the tormented soul."

"Over against these religions stands the cross of Christ. God sent his son to die on the cross that we might find forgiveness and be free of the guilt of sin. The New Testament and the later experiences of men show that no moral weaklings result from this process of forgiveness. Men of courage and strength dare and do because they have the inward knowledge of God's forgiveness."

To many the conference this year has lacked enthusiasm as well as attendance and the hope is expressed that something may be done to bring back its old time fervor as was evident in past years.

Northfield Farms Girl Hit By Automobile

Norma Leach, five years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leach of Northfield Farms was struck by an automobile on the Farms Road near her home on Sunday afternoon. She and another little girl were at the road junction north of the Leach home attempting to cross the road when it is said two cars passed, one north and one south bound. She was knocked down by the fast approaching southbound car driven by a woman from Dedham Mass. who stopped and made her identity known. The child's leg was broken above the knee, her neck was cut and she sustained other bruises.

She was taken to Franklin County Hospital at once and attended by Dr. John E. Moran where her injuries were cared for and where since she has been reported in a comfortable condition.

Northfield Has High Tax Rate Increase Of $4.50 Per Thousand Had Been Expected

Northfield's tax rate for the year 1932 will be $32 per thousand and an increase of $4.50 over the rate of last year which was $27.50 per thousand. For some time the assessors have known that the rate might have to be increased and as a result of their work such proved to be the case. As was expected after the last annual town meeting with the passing of a large and increased budget the amount of money needed would result in this increase especially in view of the fact that income from the State might be less and we were so warned. If there was anyone present at that meeting with an idea toward economy, that person was not so recorded and now "we pay the fiddler for the merry dance."

Our total appropriations for 1932 amounted to $103,578.63 the largest amount of money ever appropriated for the expenses of the town. The total amount of monies received from the State is $39,668.76 and of this amount the income tax shown is $7,261.42 the Corporation Tax is $1,175 and the gasoline tax $3,300.

The valuation for 1932 show only a slight increase of $459 over the year previous. The 1932 valuations total $1,946,496. While in 1931 the figures were $1,946,037.

Some of the items which increased the total of appropriations were the purchase of the new fire truck, the rebuilding of the Schell bridge, the provision of old age pension and increase in welfare work and a general increase in many other items.

If our tax rate is displeasing it will not be because our officials are at fault for they have been most economical but the whole responsibility must rest upon our citizens, the tax payers at town meeting who vote the appropriations. The assessors are doing their work in an efficient manner and deserve considerable credit for the performance of their duties.

Was Married In An Outdoor Setting

The bride wore white lace and taffeta with a wreath and train of orange blossoms. She carried a large bouquet of yellow butterfly roses and white swansonia. The maid of honor was Miss Winifred Pulsifer of Farmington, N. H., a classmate of the bride. Her dress was flowered georgette with a pink picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink butterfly roses and white swansonia. Mr. Bennett had for his best man Charles Turner of Farmington, N. H. Rev. Clarence E. Savage, uncle of the bride and pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Canaan, N. H. performed the single ring ceremony. The bridal party stood under an arch in the center of which was a gold wish bone which was given the bride's grandfather and grandmother, Mr. James Bolton and the late Mrs. Bolton on their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Bennett attended the public schools in Winchester and is a graduate of Northfield Seminary in 1927 and from Peter Bent Brigham hospital, Boston, in 1930 where she has been employed. Mr. Bennett is a graduate of Farmington, N. H., high school and is now employed by the Bence Pharmacy in Cambridge, Mass.

After a ten day wedding tour to the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will make their home in Boston. ## Plunges Into River Automobile With Four Drops 40 Feet

Over the road from Brattleboro to Spofford Lake traveled by many autoists from Northfield moved along last Saturday night a Ford roadster carrying four young people from Massachusetts.

The four people in the roadster were E. B. Nichols of Waltham, Mass., driver; Miss Doris Hayden of Newtonville, Mass.; Miss Ethel Rogers of Waltham, Mass.; and Stanley Whitcomb of Weston, Mass.

Leaving the Putney road and about to cross the suspension bridge over the river, according to Mr. Nichols, the driver, the car was forced off the road as he approached the curve, by a car which passed him from behind just as he met another coming off the bridge. In avoiding a smash, he guided his car into the brush at the end of the bridge only to find that the ground dropped precipitously to the river's edge and they plunged down a steep embankment into the Connecticut river, 40 feet below. The car came to rest in about 10 feet of water and the four swam to the bank, all luckily escaping serious injury. That they did not lose their lives is little short of a miracle.

The car was taken from the river Sunday morning by a wrecker from a Brattleboro garage.

Crusade Of Children Splendid Performance And Well Patronized

The Crusade of the Children, written by Mrs. Elisabeth Woodbridge Morris of Cambridge and developed by over 10 years of training at Camp Arden, near Brattleboro, was presented Saturday by the students of Camp Arden before a large and appreciative audience in Cathedral Pines at East Northfield for the benefit of the Virginia Camp, a fresh air camp for New York girls.

The play, as an experiment in child training, attracted wide attention. Inspired by Oberammergau, where the characters live their parts for a period of years, the camp has presented this play to a group of friends each year for over 10 years, the girls working up from minor parts to the more important ones, not only on the basis of dramatic skill, but as they have lived the part each year in their camp life, on the theory that the acting of a part upon the stage inspires the young student with a desire to act that part in real life. The actors ranged in age from 10 to 16 and gave a performance that would compare favorably with highly trained adults.

The play was dramatized version of the episode of the children's crusade in medieval history. The leading part was taken Saturday by the daughter of the author of the play, Martha Morris Vaughan. This part is that of Stephen of Cloyes, an historic character. A group of men connected with the Northfield work took the part of monks. All other parts were taken by the children.

The play was directed by Miss Katharine Jewell Everts, formerly with Ada Roban and Otis Skinner in Shakespearean productions and director of dramatic instruction in various schools and colleges throughout the country. Collaborated with Miss Everts is Miss Elizabeth Fay Whitney of New Haven, great-granddaughter of Eli Whitney, who invented the cotton gin, and formerly secretary of the Alumnae Association of Smith College.

Mrs. W. R. Moody is chairman of the Virginia camp committee. In her absence, due to illness, Mrs. A. P. Pitt, daughter of D. L. Moody, the evangelist, was in charge of arrangements.

Close on $130 was realized for the benefit of Virginia Camp by the play, "The Crusade of the Children."

The ladies' committee desires to thank all who assisted in any way to make the affair a success and also the Northfield Printing Co., E. L. Hildreth and Co., of Brattleboro and others for donations to the cause.

After the play the whole group of camp Arden friends were entertained at a lawn supper at Green Pastures.

Dr. Thompson Thrown Endeavoring To Stop His Moving Auto

Stopping his car last Saturday on Moody Street in front of the East Northfield Postoffice for a moment while he secured his daily paper at the Bookstore, Dr. A. N. Thompson discovered that his car had started on the down grade and was moving. Rushing to the car he jumped on the running board to grab the wheel and peer to safety but as the speed increased and the right front wheel plunged into the washed gutter, the car gave a lurch and striking a tree, stopping its progress, threw Dr. Thompson heavily to the gravel at the roadside. He was immediately picked up by Mr. A. P. Pitt and Dr. Webber was summoned. He was removed to his home suffering from shock and some minor injuries. The car was but slightly damaged and was towed to Spencer's Garage.

At the present time Dr. Thompson is resting comfortably at his home and making a rapid recovery from his unfortunate experience.

A feature of the tournament was the second round of match play between Mr. John DeJardines of Rochelle Park, N. J., who defeated Mr. Robert Duncan in a 54-hole match that was originally scheduled for 18 holes.

The tournament created considerable interest although unfortunately not advertised. There were 24 entries a smaller number than usual.

Winchester Celebrates 200th Anniversary Dedicates A Tablet

Winchester, N. H., celebrated magnificently its 200th Birthday last Wednesday and also honored a son of the town, the late General Leonard C. Wood by the unveiling of a tablet at the place of his birth. The honored guests of the town were, Hon. Frederick H. Payne, Assistant Secretary of War, Hon. George H. Moses, United States Senator from New Hampshire, Gen. Osborne C. Wood, son of Gen. Leonard Wood, Col. Walter Schuyler Grant, Chief of Staff, First Corps Area, U. S. A., Hon. Fred T. Wadleigh, Representative Gov. Winant for the state, Hon. Wendell Crowell, State Commander, American Legion, and Commander C. M. James, United States Navy.

The unveiling was a mass of bunting, whipping and tossing in the mild breeze which accompanied the bright August sunlight. Rev. George T. Carl was General Chair, man of the town's affair. The parade was in the morning at nine o'clock and was a mile long.

Hearty applause came from the crowds along the way and from the hundreds who had swarmed about the booths on the common pending the arrival of the procession.

The march of the parade was Edward M. Woodbury. First came the American Legion escort of colors and a band. Then followed the fire companies with their equipment of the community and neighboring towns. Then followed the float division which was colorful and extensive. The District school social club had prepared a realistic Indian scene for its entry. Other floats were entered by the Men's Federated club, the Ladies' society, the Polish Society of Winchester, the Arlington Grange, the Odd Fellows and mercantile houses.

Another entry of much interest was a two wheeled covered wagon drawn by oxen. There was also a doll and carriage section which provided an interesting sight. Mrs. W. H. Douglas had charge of this division.

The Polish Falcon's fire and drum corps of Holyoke made a bright spot in the parade and afterwards gave an exhibition drill in the square. The Nashua Legion drum corps in snappy red, white and blue uniforms drew much commendation.

Dinner was served in the various churches at noon and at two o'clock a baseball game was played between the Winchester team and Turners Falls, the latter winning the game. Sports and games were also held in the afternoon.

At 4.30 p.m. the big clam bake was held upon the grounds of the Winchester Gun Club.

At six o'clock came the unveiling of the tablet to General Wood. The Legion band of Nashua provided the music and the addresses were delivered by Hon. Frederick H. Payne, Col. Walter S. Grant and others. General Osborne C. Wood a son of General Leonard Wood unveiled the tablet.

Following the exercises the American Legion Drum Corps of Keene delighted the crowd with their playing, march, and drill.

Senator George H. Moses delivered the historical address in the square and received a big ovation.

The pageant followed on the grounds back of the Universalist church and thousands sat on the hillside to witness the scenes of Winchester's history. There were ten incidents as follows: First Settlers; Indian Trouble; Meeting House Hill; Turned Down Winchester Goes to War; A Tavern Episode; War Again; Civil War; Romanism in the Air; Winchester to Europe.

The pageant was well given and delighted everyone.

Dancing in the town hall concluded a full day's program.

Congregational Church Repairs

The Congregational church will remain closed next Sunday and on August 28th because of the renovation of the organ. The auditorium platform has been enlarged, and the floor is being refurnished, and other minor improvements are being made.

Sunday school at 9.30 a.m., and prayer meeting at 7.30 Thursday evening will be held in the vestry as usual.

An Appeal

A middle aged man and wife who are in real need of employment after a period of adversity are offering to fill positions — as cook — chauffeur, about private homes and grounds to anyone requiring such services. Compensation is no consideration. Anyone knowing of a place where such a Christian couple can find a home for their employment should communicate with Dr. A. H. Wright at once.

EDITORIAL

A writer in the Chicago Journal of Commerce makes a startling statement which if true gives us all something to worry about. He says:

"The number of men well-to-do or even rich at forty-five, who lose their money and the poor is almost unbelievable. A man who has earned and saved what he believes to be a financial security, feels sure of his future, but experience does not justify the belief. After forty-five ninety per cent of men lose all they have saved. One statistician finds only half a dozen in a hundred still in possession of a substantial sum at sixty. Had investments, business misfortune and other things strip them of what they had."

Perhaps its true—certainly the writer gives us a headache. Now druggist Gingrass, get out the bromo seltzer.

"Some of our 'big men,' including important advertisers, fail to appreciate the importance of weekly newspapers. Their influence on public opinion exceeds that of all other publications in the country." So said Mr. Arthur Brisbane leading American newspaper man and writer recently and his statement marks a fine compliment to such papers as The Northfield Herald.

Most "tax reduction" plans are based on the ancient principle of not letting the right hand know what the left hand doeth. In other words, they shift taxes—and don't lower them.

It is just as painful to take a dollar from one pocket as another—just as painful to pay a new kind of tax as an old one. We will have tax reduction when we force genuine cuts in the cost of running the government—and not until then.

We will only have real tax reduction when we as voters elect officials pledged to an economical administration of public affairs and when we, as voters in our town meetings, scan all our appropriations and reduce them to a genuine minimum requirement.

An interesting diversion on the radio is to listen to those "news warblers" who try to tell us what is "going on" in the world of today. Instead of sticking to facts however, and giving their hearers facts some are really "rank" in their efforts to be funny and prevent the news to their own imagination. Tuning in on W.C.A.U. of Philadelphia last Friday the Editor listened in to some "news shrimp" who was trying to pass off some "superior criticism" on the President's speech of acceptance. Of all the shriveled expressions one would want to hear this particular "talkie" wins the "cabbage" and proves that all radio "news artists" are not good news exponents nor satisfactory advertisements for the papers which they are presumed to represent.

A newspaper heading that has come to our attention reads: "Ely may demand that Roosevelt scuttle Curley." It is an indication of the harmony that exists in Democratic politics in the state. Curley is the Boston Mayor who aided the Roosevelt boom in Massachusetts while Ely headed stubbornly the Smith for President movement, and remained "stubborn" for a long while after Roosevelt's nomination before publicly stating he would support the Presidential aspirant. Perhaps Gov. Ely had some aspiration and it was settled at his Albany meeting with Mr. Roosevelt but nevertheless while Ely may again run for Governor, his support can not be harmonious with the Democratic voters, thus paving the way for Republicans to scuttle his ambition for re-election at the November election.

THE LABORER'S HOME

It glides her window panes,
Each night she loves its ray light
Tis the only gold she claims.
The sky is stricken with lavender,
The shade of her wedding dress,
And on the horizon, a soft gray cloud
Is the scarf she keeps for best.

The evening star is a jewel bright
She'd pin on a collar of lace,
After all, one needs no jewels,
But the smile on a happy face.
Her cottage is humble and needs some paint,
The yard is very small,
But morning glories climb the porch,
And a big elm shades it all.

The fire is crackling on the hearth,
The tea kettle puns away,
The clean white cloth, and little blue plates
Will make their supper gay.
She loves to sit by the open door,
Her hands in her lap at rest,
For the quiet before the supper hour,
Is of all the day the best.

Busy with many household tasks
She seldom takes time to sit,
But snatches a moment as twilight comes
To look at the hills a bit.
Sometimes a costly car rolls by,
With a woman in satin gown,
A maid attends to every wish,
Grandly they ride to town.

The housewife does not envy this,
She likes her lot the best,
For discontent rides in that car,
She hears a step, a hearty voice
Laughs out in the quiet street.
She is content, for there within
Is a meal of bread and meat.

They know the worth of well earned food,
They rest their weary feet.
Their small possessions bring them joy,
Reward of work is sweet.

When the supper hour is done,
And dishes put away,
A blessed peace rests on that home,
They sleep till dawn of day.

Worthwhile Preachment

MAN WORTH SAVING

The most important thing about religion "is not so much that it puts men into heaven as it is that it puts heaven into men," declared Rev. Charles G. Christianson at the First Congregational Church of Springfield Mass. recently.

"One of the things that the Christian church is deeply concerned about is the development of that larger self in you and me. Once upon a time the main office of religion was thought to be to save people. And in a vital sense it still is and always will be, but after all, the most important thing is not so much that it saves people as it is that it makes them worth saving."

"Psychologists and anthropologists have been prone to fall into the error of looking at man too much in the light of his origin and of the early stages in his development. It is as if someone specializing in music were always thinking of music in terms of beating sticks together and in terms of tom-toms."

"Religion seeks to give another side of the story. It calls attention to the fact that though music began primitively, it has taken on new and finer forms and that though man's beginnings may have been humble, crude and animal, he has progressed to a point where there are things which he holds more dear than his own life."

"Life is more than just eating and drinking, more than just existing. There is something deeper and more vital within ourselves that needs to be satisfied and that needs to be preserved. You may call that something whatever you like. Generally speaking, religion has called it 'a person's soul.' It is one of those terms which is hard to define, but which we understand without defining. When we read Jesus's statement: 'What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?' we know what he meant, even though we might stumble if asked to formulate a technical definition."

"The issue revolves around the question of which self we are trying to preserve. Is it our best and most inward self, or is it just a shadow of our real self? Is it the animal in us, or is it the angel, the larger man in us?"

The tax rate for the town of South Hadley this year is $30.60, an increase of $4.50 over the tax rate of 1931. The reason for the increased tax rate is set forth in the decrease of more than a half million dollars in valuations and the additional expenses due to the upkeep of the welfare and soldier's relief departments.

The 10th annual old Home Day of Wendell will be observed Wednesday August 24th. An interesting program will be offered. It is reported that the potato crop of New England for this year will probably reach a total of fifty six million bushels.

The town of Montague expects a tax rate for 1932 of $31.00 per thousand of valuation.

The Storm Lake Pilot Tribune of Iowa has been pronounced the "best weekly" in the United States.

E. W. Gibson of Brattleboro has filed petitions for the Republican nomination for re-election as representative in congress.

A reminder that Uncle Sam is not running a collection agency and that one-cent postal cards cannot be used for duns for the payment of bills has been issued by the Post Office Department. The pointed statement calls attention to the fact that such cards found in the mails can be confiscated and that the law provides for the conviction of the sender with a resulting penalty of a $5,000 fine or imprisonment for not more than five years or both.

The 58th annual gathering of the American Bankers Association will convene at Los Angeles, October 3rd to 6th.

Vermont automobile registrations show a decided decrease thus far this year from the year 1931. The fees received to date are: $2,081,887.21 for 1932 compared with $2,215,390.95 for January to August 1, 1931. The total registrations of pleasure vehicles is only 61,044 to date this year, compared with 67,894 for the first seven months of 1931.

The state department of public works has been informed that funds available for highway construction in Massachusetts had been increased by $1,712,000, its share of the $120,000,000 emergency road building appropriation recently voted by Congress.

Although business interests repeatedly have been reported as finding fault with various actions of Congress during the recent session and to have awaited the adjournment eagerly, the United States Chamber of Commerce has placed the seal of its approval on Congress with warm, almost enthusiastic praise of its accomplishments. In a message prepared for transmittal to the Chamber's membership Henry I. Harriman, president of the national organization declares that "in the face of recurring emergencies and constant has performed its task faithfully by shifting public opinion Congress and well."

People's Forum

Dear Mr. Editor:

The map of Old Northfield, printed by request in your last issue, was most interesting. There in the very center of everything stands the Meeting House, the symbol of that around which all activities of the town revolved. How significant this is today; when the whole world is beginning to realize that it has been the neglect of the Meeting House and that for which it stands which has brought the world into the terrible condition of the present. Thinking people are beginning to say we must return to the ways of the Spirit, to the light of Religion, yes return to the Meeting House, to get the help to bring about the kingdom of righteousness in our midst. After more than 200 years there stands the old Meeting House of Northfield calling our people to the highest life.

Wendell To Lose

Old Time Fiddler

Mr. Ernest Putnam, old time fiddler of Wendell, who has many friends in Northfield and who has often played here, has sold the old Putnam homestead to Edwin S. Greeley of Long Island, who will take possession next Spring.

Mr. Putnam was born in Wendell and for several years conducted the general store and post office at the Depot. He has also held town offices and had an excellent reputation in all his dealings. He also is well known throughout the county as one of the old time fiddlers and his decision to give up his residence here comes as a disappointment to many. The house was built by his father, the last Stillman Putnam, about 75 years ago. Mr. Putnam who was married about a year ago will reside in Orange.

County G. O. P. Women To Meet In Northfield

It is announced that the Women's Republican Club of Franklin County will meet in Northfield Friday September 16th and that a large number of women will attend the exercises to be held at the Chateau of the Northfield Hotel.

Arrangements were completed by Rev. Margaret B. Barnard of Greenfield who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moody at luncheon in Northfield last Monday.

Several prominent speakers will be present and it is expected that many of the candidates for office will be introduced.

Is Candidate For County Commissioner

Mr. Henry D. Wright of Rowe visited Northfield and surrounding territory recently and left a very favorable impression with those he met of his ability to serve as a County Commissioner should he be elected to that office. His nomination papers have been circulated for the Republican nomination as County Commissioner.

Henry D. Wright

Wright is a native of Rowe, where he was born Jan. 18, 1872, the son of Edward and Hannah Wright. His education was attained in the public schools of that town and Deerfield academy. After finishing his schooling, he took up farming and has since devoted his time to that occupation, owning the Fort Pelham farm, which has been in the Wright family since about 1790.

He has held many political offices, including town moderator for over 30 years; assessor over 30 years; town clerk, several years; member of the board of selectmen for 10 years and present chairman of the board; member of the legislature from the first Franklin district, 1912, 1913, 1914, serving as house chairman of the committee on agriculture. He is also a past master of the Rowe Grange.

Mr. Wright is married and has one daughter at the North Adams Teachers' college.

Better Watch Out State Police Active

That the State Police are now active on the highways in and about Northfield is evident. So many complaints have been made of speeding and road violations that autoists hereabouts had better keep an eye on their speedometer and hug the right of the road with careful driving. Recently Samuel John, 18, of Elliot street, Brattleboro, Vt., was picked up on the highway in Northfield by State Patrolman Lawrence Irving of the Shelburne Falls barracks for violating the law of the road by failing to keep to the right of the traveled part of the highway so that other motor vehicles might have a chance to pass.

On Tuesday morning in District Court John paid a fine of $5 and pleaded.

The trooper said the defendant driving 40 miles an hour passed two cars and then forced an approaching car to the shoulder of the road.

Greenfield's Tax Rate

A tax rate of $31.60 per thousand was announced for the town of Greenfield Wednesday by the board of assessors which is the highest rate since 1924 and as usual is causing considerable consternation. The valuations have been held to approximately the same figure as last year. The heavy expenditures of the town in the form of welfare work and soldier's relief this season, has partially caused the tax increase. Greenfield's average tax rate has been about $28.

Institute Of Politics At Williamstown Is Drawing Attraction

The Institute of Politics at Williamstown now in its Twelfth session and which this year began on July 28th will continue until August 25th. A larger number of people this year are more interested than ever and the discussions upon Russia, China and Japan are proving most instructive. Many of our summer residents in Northfield are spending much time there to enjoy the proceedings.

The Round Table conferences are on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays at nine o'clock a.m. The General conference is each morning at eleven o'clock in Stetson Hall and the evening meetings are at 8.15 o'clock. The public are cordially invited to attend the sessions. With good roads all the way from Northfield and a scenic route over the Mohawk Trail with good hotels at reasonable rates—these gatherings should prove inviting to our residents and summer guests.

Auto "Swamped" Vernon-Brattleboro Road

A car driven by Pauline Howard of Brattleboro crashed into a fence and landed upright in a swamp at the side of Vernon road Saturday night when Miss Howard was driving south, just north of Broad brook. The accident happened on a curve. Miss Howard said a tie rod on the steering apparatus came off and the car went out of control. Before she could stop, the machine had crashed through the wooden rail fence and gone into the swamp on the west side of the road. The machine was only slightly damaged and Miss Howard and her companion, Alice Butterfield of Jacksonville escaped injury.

Monday's Game

Millers Falls Wins

Northfield dropped their game with Millers Falls last Monday night by the score of 9-8.

The score was kept fairly even all the way through in spite of several errors by both sides.

The visitors rallied in the sixth to score six runs. The Northfield boys tried hard to equal it. They scored four runs in their half of the sixth and one more in the seventh.

Bistrek struck out 9 of the men to face him but was a little too liberal with his passes.

"Eddie" Scoble found one of Bothwick's fast ones for a homer with Polhemus and Bolton on base.

Much Less Gas Tax Received In July

Reduction in the amount of taxes collected on gasoline showed a reduction in July for the third month this year, according to figures compiled by Henry F. Long, state tax commissioner.

Treadway urges Harmony Among All Republicans At Stockbridge Bowl

Congressman Treadway was a most cordial host at his "congressional at home" last week when one hundred and more leaders prominent in political life and newspaper effort of the western part of the State gathered at Stockbridge Bowl for a social time and an understanding of the situation confronting the Republicans of the State. Everywhere reports received evidences considerable optimism in Republican faith and effort and it seems as if a sweeping Republican victory would come in November. Congressman Treadway gave a most interesting talk in an intimate way of the politics of today and he was followed by several others.

A creamed chicken dinner, served at the shore of the lake, followed the speaking.

The guests departed grateful for the opportunity the Congressman afforded to promote harmony among the leaders of the Grand Old Party.

Clark Gable, Wallace Beery, Conrad Nagel, Marjorie Rambeau,
 Dorothy Jordan in "HELL DIVERS"

"Hell Divers" a vivid epic of the air distinguished by some of the most remarkable features yet presented in a photoplay.

The picture is a frank glorification of naval aviation, produced with the fine co-operation of the Navy. Its skies are full of 'planes soaring in battle formations, stunting dangerously, plunging earthward with the sudden swoop of the hell-diver from which the film takes its name. There are shots, splendidly impressive and memorable for supreme photographic beauty, of dirigibles sailing through lofty cloud banks. And as a background for the more intimate action there is the plane carrier, U. S. S. Saratoga, to which the wandering fliers return, like chicks to a mother hen.

While these are the most important items of the picture, there is no denying the potency of Wallace Beery's portrayal as a chief petty officer of the squadron. He is relied upon for the humor as well as the pathos of the picture, and he supplies both in liberal quantity from his large store.

There are many items gay and grave—mostly the former—before Beery and Gable crack up on a deserted beach with Pilot Conrad Nagel. Then Beery, the only whole man left, rescues the two in a crazy flight back to the "Saratoga."

THURSDAY, AUGUST 25TH
JACKIE COOPER, CHIC SALE, RALPH GRAVES in
"WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND"

Public demand was the reason for the selection for "When a Feller Needs a Friend" as Jackie Cooper's new screen story according to coast officials. This picture presents the juvenile co-starred with Charles "Chic" Sale in a story designed to do full justice to the eight-year-old star's ever-developing genius before amateur audiences as well as younger picturegoers.

After "The Hamp" a vast number of requests were received to give Jackie Cooper another story that would have fully as much dramatic appeal for adult audiences as for juvenile film fans. "When a Feller Needs a Friend" is said to have answered these demands perfectly in giving Jackie and the talented "Chic" Sale deeply memorable parts as nephew and uncle in a drama that is grippingly emotional and at the same time filled with comedy touches.

The story of "When a Feller Needs a Friend" concerns a crippled boy whose physical handicap makes him afraid to have anything to do with the other youngsters of his own age. The climax of the story comes when he is placed in a situation where he must be publicly stamped as a weakling or force one of his acquaintances to apologize for an insult that concerns his uncle.

Harry Pollard directed "When a Feller Needs a Friend" and the strong supporting cast includes Ralph Graves and Dorothy Peterson as Jackie's parents.

Also: Metro-Tone News, Charlie Chase Comedy, and a timely Sport Reel of "Olympic Events."

Youngsters Make Crack Marksmen By Spectacles

Defective vision is no handicap for these youthful rifle shots. Spectacles bringing them up to considerably above par in the rifle matches in which they have better shots than far-sighted ones. This is because the error in focusing on the front sight, inevitable with far-sighted people, leads to greater inaccuracy than failure to see the target distinctly.

An error of a tenth of an inch in sighting means an error of ten inches on a target a hundred yards away, and twenty inches at two hundred yards. Far-sighted rifle-men, while they can see the target itself distinctly, may easily make errors of at least a tenth of an inch in sighting because they cannot focus correctly on the front and rear sights. A short-sighted man, on the other hand, can line up his sights correctly, and with practice can train them on the center of his target even though the outlines of it are not sharply defined.

Lenoxes which focus the eyes of marksmen a little in front of the front sight have been found to be best by eyesight specialists. Such correction adds to the efficiency and enjoyment of the sportsman, and will prolong his years of shooting indefinitely.

As a rule, according to M. J. Julian of the Better Vision Institute, short-sighted rifle-men are

Lake Pleasant

The third Sunday of camp meeting was a perfect day and the lectures and message work of Mrs. Amelia Adams of Haverhill who occupied the platform at the Temple in the forenoon and of Rev. Maude F. Torrey in the afternoon and evening were enjoyed by large audiences at all three services.

During the day in addition to the singing of Prof. John Kighofer, with Mrs. June Schneider as pianist we had as violinist Mr. Fred B. Schneider of New York who rendered two solos and assisted with obligatos, which added greatly to the attractiveness of the meetings.

On Monday forenoon the annual business meeting of the New England Spiritualist Camp Meeting Association was held and the reports of the financial officers and committees showed the association to be most prosperous. Election of officers was almost by unanimous vote and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Helen R. Turney of Lake Pleasant. Vice-presidents, 1st Mrs. Harry A. Nash of Somerville, Mass. 2nd Mrs. Lillian M. Rawson of Hartford, Conn. 3rd Mrs. Charlotte L. Snipes of Coral Gables, Fla. Secretary and Clerk Rev. Albert P. Blinn of Lake Pleasant. Treasurer Mrs. Clara H. Collamore of Brooklyn, N. Y. Directors Monroe S. Burt of Greenport, L. I. Julian R. Rand of Springfield, J. William Feyl of Troy, John E. Butler of Westfield, Burton T. Gaskill of Miami, Fla. and Josephine M. Simon of Hartford. The association is without debt and has a substantial treasury account.

On Wednesday the Ladies' Improvement Society holds its annual fair and sale and in the evening has arranged for a special dance with the Musical Targersons to furnish the music. There has been quite a demand for some of the old time dances and the orchestra will meet this demand.

The inspirational lectures of Olga Neidlinger Gunn, followed by message work by Rev. Minnie M. Sayers of Los Angeles, Cal. is eagerly anticipated by the audiences which will congregate at the Temple next Sunday as both of these workers are very popular at Lake Pleasant.

The dance season here will close earlier than usual as only two more Saturday evening dances will be held. Goodnow's Orchestra of Orange will furnish the music.

Rev. Albert P. Blinn will attend the annual convention of the National Spiritualist Association at Chicago in October as a delegate from the camp meeting association.

WAS INJURED

Eugene LeValle is reported to be able to be about again. He was injured recently when one of the trucks hauling gravel for the roads became stuck in a gravel bank. Mr. LeValle and others working with him attempted to move the truck, but it slipped back, pinning Mr. LeValle against the gravel bank. He was bruised but no bones were broken.

Shear Nonsense

We hardly think it will help prohibition much, but we'll print anyway this epitaph from a graveyard in Manchester, England:
 Beneath these stones repose the bones
 Of Theodosius Grimm,
 He took his beer from year to year
 And then his bier took him.

Northfield Defeats Greenfield

Last Friday night, baseball fans witnessed one of the best ball games of the season. The Goodrich Co. of Greenfield, who held the locals to a 5-5 tie earlier in the season, played here. The final score was 9-3.

Northfield got off to a 2-run lead in the first innings on four nice singles off the delivery of "Loopy" Rose, the Greenfield team's starting "twirler." The locals pushed two more tallies across the plate in the fifth. In the sixth, the visitors garnered one run in their half of the inning. In the last half Northfield worked four more scores across the plate. One more tally for the locals in the seventh ended the scoring for them, but Greenfield "squeezed" in two in the ninth.

Shearer, the Northfield pitcher, not only put on a superb exhibition of pitching, but in the fifth, with "Eddie" Scoble resting on base, he connected with one of Rose's fast ones for a nice long hit that netted him four bases and two runs for the "weak side."

Williams nearly qualified for the Olympic high jumping team when he went into the air after a high one that came breezing over from the other side of the field.

L. Rose struck out 10 of the Northfield boys that faced him in the six innings he toiled on the mound, but while he was doing this 13 hits were chalked up against him.

The pitching of "Bat" Shearer was the high light of the game. He also took batting honors by collecting 4 hits out of 5 trips to the plate. The summary follows:

Hagis Suggested For Councillor

Friends of John W. Hagis of Greenfield are apparently not content to allow him to remain out of state office and a movement has been inaugurated to have him run for councillor from the 8th district, an office from which George D. Chamberlain of Springfield will retire this year.

Friends of Mr. Hagis are advancing his candidacy on the grounds that his election to the councillor's office would not necessitate his absence from his duties as president of the Franklin County Trust company. It is also felt his past political experience would be of material assistance and his presence would strengthen the council. It is also felt that this office would keep him in line for possible political elevation in the future.

Exposition Flower Show

Dahlias and gladioli in a riot of color and a multitude of varieties will be featured in the annual flower show of the Eastern States Exposition from September 13 to 24 inclusive with growers from 16 of the six New England states represented among those who will turn the northwest section of the Exposition Coliseum building into a bower of beauty in fall blooms.

Changes in the displays will be made daily by the exhibitors throughout Exposition Week with the result that the flower show will always be new and different and will provide the last word in the flower show.

The flower show will be under the direct supervision of A. W. Lombard of the Massachusetts State Department of Agriculture. J. Herbert Alexander of Dighton, Middleboro, will show dahlias. Elmer E. Gove of Champlain View Gardens, Burlington, Vt. will display gladioli. Mrs. Emilie H. Kitchon of Kit Gardens, Springfield, will be an exhibitor of dahlias, and variety will be offered by Archie H. Logee of Danielson, Conn. with a showing of potted plants and ferns. Willard A. Squier of North Clarendon, Vt., will have an exhibit of gladioli, while Calvin S. Wheeler of Webster, Harry B. Sheldon of Waltham and A. G. Sherman of Chicopee Falls will have extensive dahlia displays. Samuel F. Sauer of Graceland Gardens, Wilton, N. H., A. A. Arenius of Longmeadow, complete the list of flower exhibitors with showings of gladioli and as an innovation, C. W. Johnson of Springfield will exhibit an exceptional collection of original, colored photographs of flowers, buds and plants. The Springfield Park Department will co-operate also with a large table display.

Bean Beetles Here

An infestation of Mexican bean beetles is causing the farmers and gardeners in this section considerable worry. The Mexican bean beetle first appeared hereabouts last year and this year they have become so numerous as to seriously menace all beans.

The bean beetle is similar to the potato beetle in appearance, and is yellow in color. It attacks the leaves of bean plants, showing a decided preference for wax beans.

Westminster Abbey Of Vermont Urged

Northfield people will be very much interested in the idea of Rev. Vincent Ravi Booth, pastor of the Old First (Congregational) Church at Old Bennington, as expressed in his address last Sunday, the day preceding the anniversary of the Battle of Bennington, on Aug. 16, 1777, in which he proposed raising a fund of $150,000 with which to restore the church edifice as it was originally constructed in 1806 and to create "The Westminster Abbey of Vermont."

The church, which stands near the site of the first meeting house, in what later became the State of Vermont, has twice undergone alterations. It was his intention, the pastor stated, to personally undertake the raising of the fund to carry out the restoration and to create a permanent endowment.

He envisioned the walls of the restored building covered, as are the walls of Westminster Abbey, with bronzes and marble tablets each tablet recording the name of a Vermont soldier, the statesmen, writers, poets, preachers, philanthropists and educators the state has given the nation.

Rev. Mr. Ravi Booth has many friends here in Northfield. His daughters graduated from the Seminary and he delivered the Commencement address only a few years ago at the Seminary graduation.

Winchester Baseball

The Winchester Baseball Club venged an early season defeat last Sunday by trimming the fast Brockton City Club 4-2 at Anderson field. The game was very interesting with good hitting and fielding on the part of both teams. It was the first really pleasant Sunday for three weeks and one of the largest crowds of the season enjoyed the hostilities.

It looked bad for Winchester in the very first inning when Pinetti led off with a single. Wedge followed with another hit down the third base line and Bergeron was safe on "Pete" Davis' second error of the season, consequently there were three men on bases with nobody out. Robinson, the next batter, in an attempted squeeze play bunted a short fly to Giovannangeli who threw to third doubling up Pinetti. Then on a short passed ball Pratt threw to Giovannangeli again who was covering the plate to get the third out, and the scene was cleared after what looked like a disastrous beginning.

In the third inning Winchester broke the "ice" when "Pete" Davis led off with a mighty triple to deep center field and after Welch threw Hanna out at first, Rollins singled to score Davis with the first run. Kibbee fled out to left and with two gone Burns and Pratt singled in succession to score two more runs.

Lanoue singled in the fourth inning after one out and scored the first run for Brockton on a hit by pitcher Twoomey.

On Bent's second hit and a hit by Giovannangeli Winchester scored again in the seventh and Brockton scored their second and last run in the eighth inning when Lanoue was safe on Rollins' error, he advanced on an out at first, and scored when Wallace singled to left field.

This was the first Sunday in two years that Bill Davis has not toed the mound at Anderson field on a Sunday, but Art. Giovannangeli, the Dummer Academy star was an able substitute keeping Brockton's hits well scattered after the first inning. He received wonderful support from "Pete" Davis, Kibbee and "Babe" Burns with Wallace helping Twoomey out of several bad holes by making good catches in left field. For three innings it looked as though Twoomey was going to southpaw his way along safely but Winchester bunched their hits at the right time to advantage.

The Winchester Baseball Club has booked another stellar attraction for next Sunday, August 21st at Anderson Field in the fast Hadley, Mass., A. C. This club is one of the fastest teams in Hampshire county and has taken into camp the best teams in Holyoke city league and in Northampton. Most of the players are former members of Hopkins Academy teams which always produce good clubs. Among the members of the team is E. J. Kananowski regular third baseman at Bates college this spring and S. Kekanowski who caught this year for Holy college. Paul Brown former member of Mass. State nine is one of the pitchers with this club.

A game was scheduled with this team earlier in the season but before two innings were completed the game was stopped by rain.

Old Home Day Attracts Many To Warwick

Warwick's annual Old Home Day was celebrated in a great way on Wednesday and its citizens joined in a great family picnic welcoming to their number many of their friends and relatives as well as the native sons and daughters in nearby towns. Northfield and Orange were well represented. The program began with the assembling of the people at ten o'clock in the morning. The younger population indulged in many sports and games and prizes were awarded for successful contestants. A big dinner was served at noon everyone providing from their basket lunches.

At 2 p.m., there was a literary program in the church with music by a male quartet from Winchester, N. H., and an address by the Hon. Herbert C. Parsons of Boston.

At three o'clock the great game of baseball was played between the teams of Warwick and Northfield in which Warwick was defeated by a score of 11 to 4.

With the score 4-3 against Northfield in the ninth inning and two men out the Northfield boys staged a rally. When the smoke had finally cleared away it was found that 8 runs had crossed the plate. This was too much of a handicap for the Warwick boys to overcome.

Both Shearer and Davidson put on a fine exhibition of pitching while Bistrek starred in the field at shortstop.

Glazier and Williams collected three hits apiece for Northfield and Henry Nordstedt produced the heavy stick word for Warwick. The Summary follows:

After a supper luncheon and friendly gatherings the evening was devoted to a program of music and dancing. The Mount Grace Mountaineers entertained in their usual splendid way and dancing followed till late in the evening. It was a real home coming for many and the day was thoroughly enjoyed.

G. A. Witherell acted as president of the Old Home day program; E. A. Lyman, vice president; Mrs. F. R. Lincoln, secretary; and Josiah Joselyn, treasurer.

The committee for the day followed: Literary, Mrs. F. W. Bass, Mrs. G. A. Witherell, and Mrs. F. A. Lincoln; sports, Ralph Holbrook, Albert Ohlson, and Robert Lincoln; afternoon literary program, Mrs. F. W. Bass, Mrs. G. A. Witherell, and Mrs. F. A. Lincoln. Lee Dresser was the flag custodian.

Tour And Detours

Mount Mansfield

If you want a thrilling drive with a thrilling view at the end of it, be sure to climb Mt. Mansfield, the highest mountain in Vermont. Turn off route 108 at the Socony pump half-way between Smugglers Notch and Stowe. There's a toll-road almost to the top, so you can let your car do the climbing. The road surface is good, but you'll have to go in second most of the way and maybe sometimes in low. And if you're wise, you'll stop and cool your motor where the signs tell you to.

From the hotel, at the end of the climb, there are well-marked trails leading to the various look-out points. Of course you will want to go to the Chin, actual top of Vermont. Here's hoping you have a clear day, for the view is marvelous. On the one side, the Adirondacks; on the other, the White Mountains. And Mansfield's own bodyguard of Green Mountains all around. But make the climb whether the day is clear or not, for even with a haze, the view over the wooded waves of hills is a sight for the gods. And what a sight a sunrise must be from here! Why not stay and see it? It isn't often you can stop in a comfortable hotel right on the mountain top.

If you are a naturalist, you'll find other things, too, to interest you on top of Mt. Mansfield. Stunted trees and rare wild flowers. And the plaintive note of the Whistling Jack (Peabody Bird if you're from Massachusetts). And they say there are some rare thrushes up here also.

Great Barrington

If you're in the Berkshires, look for the marker near the Great Barrington Town Hall.

According to this marker, the first act of armed resistance to British rule in America occurred on this site on August 16, 1774. By force of arms, Berkshire men, aided by men from Litchfield County, Connecticut, prevented the Crown Judges from holding court.

On that day, a large body of men from all parts of the county assembled in Great Barrington. In spite of the opposition of the King's officers, they seized the court-house and filled it to overflowing. When the judges arrived, the sheriffs tried in vain to make a passage for them into the building. The colonists, claiming that they knew no court and recognized no authority in the judges, insisted that they leave town. Discarding their dignity, the judges hastily rode away. A magistrate and prominent Tory of Great Barrington was taken into custody by the Connecticut men, carried back with them and imprisoned.

This was the stirring prelude to Lexington and Concord that you'll find commemorated by a little-known marker in this quaint old Berkshire town.

Vegetable Canning Easy Today

From almost every house you pass these days comes the odor of cooking berries or steaming vegetables. Women are busy—busy storing away vitamins, minerals, calories and flavors in jars for the winter days. Even with the reassurance they may have from the political parties that times will be better after election, women will run no risks. They want to be sure of food for their families.

There are many lovely gardens this summer. In these gardens grow both wax and crisp green string beans, health giving spinach, and chard, calcium rich carrots, young tender beets, well-liked peas and ears of green corn. Perhaps some gardeners have been ever more ambitious but whatever it is, it can be kept safe for food in jars. Since there is more than enough food right now, the wish comes almost instinctively not to let it waste but to save it for the day when Jack Frost is king. Home canned jars of food are not only a sure source of good food but they are a real convenience, for the food is all ready to serve. What if unexpected guests do arrive? What matter if the housewife is delayed long at a meeting? What if the day has been extra busy? There are jars of food for every need already for any emergency.

More than ever this year the old art of canning is again being revived. Science has been at work too, in Home Economics laboratories all over the country and has discovered a newer and surer method of canning vegetables, meats, and fruits, if you wish. This is called the Hot Pack Method. It is a simple method too. In the Hot Pack Method the food is heated in a small quantity of water until it boils. This shrinks the food, makes the packing easier, and drives out any air which might be enclosed. The boiling hot food is then packed into jars and sterilized or processed. With oven, steamer or pressure cooker the jars are partially sealed during the sterilizing period and completely sealed when removed from the canner.

Some women are still using their old favorite open kettle method for canning fruits and the acid vegetable, tomatoes, but many housewives are saying that the Hot Water Pack gives a better flavored fruit. This will, no doubt, be one of the greatest canning years ever known. City and town women are catching the spirit of canning. The rural housewife has always been a great canner. One woman tells of canning 750 jars of fruits, vegetables, and meats last year. She says, "I plan to fill all those jars again this year. Then I need not fear that our family will not have enough good healthful food this winter."

Few vegetables contain vitamin C, the vitamin necessary for growth. Tomatoes are rich in this vitamin and so stand in high favor on the tables of both the rich and the poor. Tomato juice has proved tremendous favor as a health giving drink during this past year. Firm ripe tomatoes are used for tomato juice. Wash and remove stem ends, discarding any that show signs of decay. Chop and heat in a covered vessel until the juice flows freely. Strain the juice while hot into hot jars, add one teaspoon salt, completely seal and process for 20 minutes in a Hot Water Bath.

If it is to be used for infant feeding, salt should be omitted. If a thicker juice is desired, return the strained juice to the stove and boil it until it is reduced to one-half the original volume, and process as directed above.

The International Canning Contest is offering splendid prizes again this year for the best entries in several classes: vegetables, fruits, meats, pickles, unusual packs, balanced meal class, jams and jellies. Two thousand prizes with more than $5,000 in cash and merchandise will be awarded. The contest is open to anyone. Full particulars may be had by writing Mrs. Grace Wall Gray, Log Cabin, Aurora, Illinois.
